Dear Secretary of State Williams:

I strongly discourage the use of the Internet for voting. The main duty of the Secretary of State is to protect and maintain the integrity and protection of the voting process. Use of the Internet is simply too great a risk for this extremely important function of democracy to vote.

Please do not let this happen and open another door to possible abuse of this powerful tool in the hands of those anxious to diminish or destroy our voting rights.

Thanks,

Your friend,

Joseph Chavez
