Mr. Secretary:

I respectfully request that you do not forgo forward with your online voting for our overseas/remote assignment military program. I was a military wife who had lived overseas, and I am very much aware of the difficulties in getting military votes to the proper destination. That being said, with all the hacking into supposedly secure data bases in the defense department and other government agencies, I am not confident that these votes would be secure and registered as the individual intended.

Until such time as their vote is secure and that security can be demonstrated please do not go forward with this program.

Repectfully,

Shirley Seitz
