Dear Secretary of State Williams:

I am appalled that you so readily and conspicuously capitulated to making our election process even more insecure and potentially contaminated. You stand out among even your fellow Republicans in swiftly offering up voter information to an administration under clouds of suspicion and record low support. You are abetting voter suppression in the guise of election integrity, not to mention allowing the current administration to amass a juicy, hackable, centralized pool of voter information, which will facilitate the use of weaponized misinformation that was documented in the most recent election.

Citizens who care about democracy--which includes both parties--are paying close attention. We know Colorado is a purple state and hence essential in upcoming elections. We respectfully request that you protect our rights as voters, ensure the sanctity and anonymity of our votes, reject Amended Rule 2.13.2, Rule 8, and abide by your oath to the Constitution, not party or president. Democracy depends on you, sir.

Thank you.
