Good Morning,

I have been a notary for a number of years now. I don't see a need for implementing a requirement for renewal of existing notaries to take a "class and test" on being a notary.

Rather it may benefit all of us existing notaries for you to provide us with any changes or updates within the previous four years once we do opt to renew or commissions.

I believe a class and test for existing notaries would be a waste of time and resources for both the Secretary of State's office as well as us as individuals.

Thank You,

Gina Borra
