I have been a notary for several years now. I feel that implementing a class and taking a test of existing notaries is waste of valuable time.

I can see why classes and testing would be necessary for new notaries, but not for existing notaries.

The thought of a specific governmental office and staff to monitor notaries is a huge waste of money and resources.

I for one am NOT in favor of this amendment, and pray that you all reconsider what it is you are asking of veteran notaries.
