Hello,

Thank you for all of your hard work with the notary revisions.

Most of the changes and updates are clear and needed.

There is one part I'm not sure about – is concerning the electronic signatures. Is that when you write your signature and scan it onto the computer and place it on a document? Also, I wondered about the special number you may receive connected to that electronic signature – in one place it talks about just having one number – another place it talks about having a different number each time you used a electronic signature. Maybe these are the items you are still considering.

Thank you.
