To Whom It May Concern:

I am still not in agreement with having to take a test to renew our commissions, only, of course, if there has been disciplinary action taken then the person should have to take the test.

From the entries I have read a renewal test and electronic filing of signatures would really be unnecessary. I hardly ever notarize more than 5 items a year. I am not in agreement with an electronic signature.

I sincerely hope that the Secretary of State re-considers.

Thank you.
