Thank you for making the Rulemaking Hearing available to the public, as noted by Ms. Kessler it was late which probably caused many to drop out of the meeting. Once again, the challenge of technology and people not being fully familiar with the process.

I posted my comment during the meeting agreeing with the lady from the Western Slope that the State should not be looking into any dramatic change of our voting system four months from an election. Mail in ballots are subject to fraud through the use of modern copying technology along with private, contracted mail delivery and postal challenges during a budget deficit year causing unrest/discontent amongst postal employees.

We have had a system that has stood the tests of prior elections and would not cast doubt on election results such as ballots taking longer to mail in from the Western Slope, Eastern Plains making these voters believe their voices are not heard. The State must gain the support and trust of all Coloradoans by listening to every citizen, especially those outside the Denver Metro area.

A dedicated and committed Coloradoan,
